The following practices are used to ensure the Renter is presenting a facially valid license at the time of rental.

- If the home country license is in a language other than English and the letters are not English (i.e. alphabet is not an extended Latin-based alphabet like German or Spanish but is Russian, Japanese, Arabic, etc.) an International Driver's Permit is required.
- If an International Driver's permit cannot be obtained in the home country, another professional, type-written translation may be substituted. In either case the home country license must also be presented.
- Renters may not rent a vehicle solely with the International Driver's Permit. The International Driver's Permit is a translation of the individual's home country license and is not considered a license nor is it considered valid identification.
- In some locations, including but not limited to offices in Arizona, California, Georgia, New Mexico, Nevada, and Texas, customers may be asked to provide additional valid government-issued documentation.
